The roof of the cinema is being put on. It will take some time to finish the brick work. When the building is completed it will present quite an imposing appearance.

Mrs. Grandin, R. C. group of St. Albert, arrived in town yesterday, and is the guest of Mrs. Spruit. He is accompanied by a young clergyman lately from France, but who has been to St. Boniface for the past two months. His Lordship will leave for St. Albert on Monday by way of Duck Lake, Moose Lake, Battleford and Frog Lake. He left St. Albert a year ago, and during his absence visited Winnipeg, Ottawa, Montreal, Quebec, and Lowell, Mass., where the American headquarters of the R. M. L., of which he is a member, is situated. His principal object being to collect funds to enable him to defray the pecuniary expenses connected with his widely scattered disease. We are pleased to state that he has received very encouraging assistance from men of all denominations. He was present at the installation of His Eminence Cardinal Taché. It was His Lordship's intention to have visited Lake Louise and Lac la Poudre, but we are sorry to say his health will not admit of his undertaking so tedious a journey. His Lordship will accompany him to St. Albert, and will be absent about a year. During his absence the young clergyman who accompanied His Lordship here will substitute.

Messrs. Chisholm and Williams, D. L. S. and C. E., left on Wednesday morning to commence their dredging operations in the river about twenty miles below this place, but Mr. Chisholm came back the next day to have another boat constructed to live in, the banks being too high to permit of landing. It will take about eight days to construct the boat.

A meeting of citizens took place in the school house on Tuesday evening last, to select a site for the new school house.

After some discussion it was decided to purchase ten lots, at $10 a lot, on the Hurd & Baker estate, in rear of the Trusts office. We understand there is some grumbling going on in town about the site selected. Well we have nothing to say for or against the site. That is the duty of the people. What we object to is the great majority, who were absent, throwing the burden of the selection of a site on the few who were present, and their raising objections. People who have the public interest at heart, which is each one's interest at heart, generally meet it in some other way than citizens of this town did on last Tuesday evening.

FRIDAY, SEPT. 10, 1886.

TRADE WITH AUSTRALIA.

The completion of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and the fact that with the placing of a line of steamers on the Pacific to run between Victoria and Sydney we will have a much shorter and cheaper route than our neighbors to the south, brings up the question of the possibility of Canada securing a portion of the trade at present carried on by the United States with Australia.

Some time ago the Dominion Government, with a view to encouraging trade between Australia and Canada, appointed Alex. Wood, of Winnipeg, Dominion Agent to Australia. That gentleman, in furtherance of the object of the Dominion Government, issued a trade letter to the merchants and manufacturers of Canada, in which he treats: (1) of the extent and value of trade with Australia; (2) the portion of the same done by Great Britain, the United States and Canada; (3) the articles of our produce and manufactures in which we may now hope to extend trade; and (4) the establishment of a Canadian agency in Australia, for the purpose of facilitating our trade and commerce with that country. He also visited the Maritime Provinces and worked westward, calling at all the trade centres, and placed the matter before the merchants and manufacturers, asking their co-operation.
When he has completed his rounds he will proceed to Australia and open offices and sample warehouses in the different cities, in the former to keep all information about Canada it may be possible to supply, and in the latter to keep samples of such Canadian manufactures as may be adapted to the country, price lists of the same in Canada, with such information as to freight and insurance as may be necessary to give the purchaser delivered prices. Samples will be the property of the consignees subject only to the charges for freight and insurance which may have been paid by the Government. Consignments for sale will not be received; by Mr. Wood, but he will be happy to give such advice as may be desired as to responsible and satisfactory firms to whom consignments may be made.

But let us see what is the amount of trade done by the United States and Great Britain with Australia, and whether we are warranted in endeavouring to open trade relations with the latter:

During the fiscal year of 1884-5 the United States exported to Australia to the value of $10,334,138, and imported thence to the value of $2,825,383.

The year ending 31st December, 1884, Great Britain exported to Australia to the value of 24,216,452 pounds sterling; and imported thence to the value of 29, 181,756 pounds. In Britain's imports from Australia wool, sheep and lambs count for 19,952,549 pounds, and wheat for 2,004,381 pounds sterling.

While Canada, in the year 1884-5, exported to Australia to the value of 432, 717 dollars; and imported thence to the value of 8,825 dollars.

The U. S., it will be seen, in 1884-5, exported to Australia ten million dollars' worth of goods, all of which Canada is able to supply.
Besides we may be able to win considerable of the trade at present carried on with Australasia by Great Britain.

Time was when the impression prevailed that Australia was a country with which Canada could not hope to establish trade relations, but with the completion of the C. P. R. things have changed, and we are placed in a position to become a very formidable rival to the United States, at least, in the markets of our sister colonies in the Southern Seas. It only requires the exercise of the same energy which has characterized Canadians of late years to secure the most of the Australian trade—to secure the ten millions now yearly withdrawn from Australia by the U. S., and leave them our last year's portion.

STRANGE.

Major General Strange, in a letter to Le Presse, Montreal, calls attention to the injustice done the 65th Battalion, and the omission of Steele's Scouts and the Alberta Rifles from the report of the Minister of Militia.
He also refers to the fact that the rank and file of Major-General conferred on him by Her Majesty was also suppressed, as also—part of his official report. Some one in authority is to blame for this, and it is to be hoped, in justice to the Major-General himself, that the burden of this injustice will be placed on the proper shoulders. Though the troops under Major-General Strange's command did less fighting than their comrades in arms under Middleton, they did a great deal more hard marching, and were not wanting in courage when fighting was to be done, and it is not to the credit of those in authority that after doing their duty they should be treated differently from others. There is a nigger in the fence somewhere.

All communication between Turkey and Bulgaria has been stopped.

The provisional government created by the Bulgarian revolutionists has been overthrown, and Prince Alexander has again assumed the reins of government.

Traffic receipts for the Canadian Pacific for the week ending the 21st showed an increase of $9,000 over the same period last year.

The Montreal Star is said for $10,000 damages by Matilda C. Smith for accusing him of cruel treatment to his sister. The Witness is also said for $25, 000 by Mr. Cordingley, proprietor of the Commercial Grain and Stock Exchange.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The total value of imports and exports during July were respectively $7,577, 478 and $9,359,501. The duty collected was $7,519,924.

An order in council has been passed prohibiting the importation of skins from Minnesota and Dakota excepting through the port of Emerson, where they will be placed in 21 days quantine.

His Honor Lieut.-Governor Dewdney has gone on a visit to Banff and British Columbia for the good of his health. He will return in time for the opening of the North-West Council.

What with alleged coal frauds and bank swindlers Toronto would seem to be acquiring an unenviable reputation.
The Globe had better devote more space to purifying the financial morality of Toronto and less to that of Portage la Prairie.

The Halifax Chronicle says "It will be a glorious time indeed when nations shall finally get tired of fighting and calling each other disagreeable names." Yes, but we are afraid we will not live to see that time, and in the interval people will go on killing one another in the name of civilization.

Earthquakes would seem to be the fashion just now, though, like many other fashionable articles, the less we have to do with them the better, if their utility may be gauged by the great destruction of life and property which has resulted from them in Greece and South Carolina recently.

Col. Gilder has gone in search of the North Pole in the interests of the New York Herald. When he finds the Pole it is said he intends to cut his name on it with his jackknife and return home.
But why not bring it to New York with him. It would be a grand thing to make "gin fizzes" out of or pack stolen Canadian fir in.

Mr. Boyce, on behalf of the holders of Portage la Prairie bonds, has proposed that the capital, $262,000, remain intact and new debentures be issued for thirty years bearing interest at the rate of 3 per cent. for the first ten, 4 for the second, and 5 for the third, and that no sinking fund be provided for. A better offer could hardly be expected or asked provided the town intends to pay 100 cents in the dollar.

The Edmonton Bulletin says—"The Indians are learning. Geo. Keskawas recently hired a saddle horse from M. McCauley. At St. Albert he sold the horse to another party. He stole the horse back, came back to town and paid Mr. McCauley a part of the hire and leased from him another team. Since that time there has been a vacancy where George and the horses should be found.
The Indian can be civilized." Looks like it, white-e-man-a-do much e same-e.

Three Canadian Sealing schooners were recently seized by the U. S. revenue cutter Corwin in Behring's Sea, off the coast of Alaska. As the United States claims the right of fishing within the months of Canadian inlet and harbours, which would seem to admit a corresponding right on the part of Canadians in American waters, the action taken by the Corwin seems a little inconsistent. But Uncle Sam never did practice what he preached, and one of their cutters will wake up the wrong crew some day.

Mr. Everett Frazer, the senior member of the great tea firm of Frazer & Co., of Japan, China and New York, is accompanying Van Horne on a trip to British Columbia, for the purpose of arranging for the rapid transmission of tea from Fort Moody to points in the east. Mr. Frazer says that for tea carrying purposes the Canadian Pacific is superior to the other transcontinental lines, because it is the shortest, and the rates are in close competition with those of the Suez Canal. The cargo of the Flint has already been distributed, and within a month four more ships will arrive with cargoes of tea, rice and other products of the Orient. With the establishment of a line of steamers between the terminals of the C. P. R. and Japan an immense traffic cannot but follow.

There is a great drought prevailing in different parts of Hunan and Middlesex.
The cattle have been driven several miles in many instances for water.

Five head of cattle, a pony and a buckboard were stolen from C. H. Tomkins, Peasant Fork, north east of Indian Head, on the 24th ult.

Major-General Strange has presented Steele's Scouts with medals engraved at his own expense.

TOWN COUNCIL.

The Council met on Monday evening. Present—Acting Mayor Betts, Couns. Hainsboro, Goodfellow and Brown. The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted.

ACCOUNTS.

Accounts were received from J. O. Cadman for dog tags, $10—ordered to be paid; from N. W. M. P. for medicines supplied H. Harrison, $8.50, and rubies, $8.77—ordered to be paid; from Mrs. Bell, $10, for attendance on H. Harrison—$5 was ordered to be paid; from Acting Mayor Betts, delegate's expenses to Ottawa, $488.15—passed.

PETITION.

A petition was received from R. C. Wigmore, Wm. Tait, T. K. Baker, and others, asking that the building now in use as a High School on King Street be removed. Referred to the Committee on Works and Health.

The time for procuring dog tags was extended to the 20th inst. The Council adjourned to meet on the 20th inst., at 7:30 p.m.

TERRITORIAL NEWS.

BATTLEFORD.

From the Herald.

A mounted police escort now accompanies the mail to Swift Current.

A house is being built for the Indian farm instructor at the Stony reserve. The barracks grounds are to be extended south and west so as to enclose a square of one thousand feet on each side. Messrs. Millie and Jefferson are building a store in South Battleford.

A Masonic Lodge, known as Battle Lodge, has been instituted here, and opens under the most favourable auspices. Following are the officers: W. M., Br. W. White-Fraser; S. W., Br. Hugh J. Montgomery; J. W., Br. J. G. Rolph; Sec. J. G. Rolph (temporarily); Treasurer, Br. Jas. Clinkskill.

The police are going to have a well sunk within their stockade. It will be eight feet in diameter.

About forty police and a number of citizens are ill of malarial fever, among them being Dr. Miller and Hospital Sergeant Mercer. The hospitals are under charge of Dr. Maskey.

The failure of crops is pressing heavy on the farmers here, and they are anxiously awaiting when the balance of their claims will be paid.

News from Edmonton says they were having splendid harvest weather and over twenty self-binders were at work. W. Pearce is expected there in a few days to hear cases of objections to decisions of Land Board. Telegraph construction to saddle Lake has commenced.

FORT MCLEOD.

From the Gazette.

"C" troop is on its way to Battleford. A farewell dinner was given at the Inspector's quarters by the officers of the troop to a number of friends, and the troop gave a parting ball.

Major-General Sturge has refused to present a portion of his command with the rebellion medal until he is assured that the mounted police comrades are to be similarly treated.

Cons. Cole has been sentenced to six months' imprisonment for being drunk and disorderly.

CALGARY.

From the Herald.

While the police were passing the "sore camp" of One Arm to make arrests a great noise attracted Inspector Moody's attention, and he ordered the Indians to stop. A buck ran at Moodie with a sword and Moodie took it away and broke it over his knee while in the spree. The buck then ran at him and in self-defence Moodie shot him through the arm.

A gentleman from Edmonton tells us that parties are washing gold from the river in that vicinity at the rate of $7 a day.

W. Mitchell, T. Egan and T. Hutton have been arrested on suspicion of having robbed a Frenchman lately near Calgary.

R. J. Pritchard has been appointed the guardian by the Lt. Governor.

J. M. Campbell has just received a large consignment of Green Apples.

Some of the boys took a funny fit on Monday night last and tied up people's noses, stuffed noses, and transported a man. This is a sign that they are well. Better look out or they will get into a bigger row.

"SHE NODDIT TO ME."

The following poem, which recently appeared in the Bon Accord, a weekly comic journal published in Aberdeen, attracted the notice of the Queen, and Her Majesty wrote expressing a desire to be furnished with the name of the author:—

I'm but an auld body Lavin' up in Doodie,
In a wa' room'd hit hoosie Wi' a loofie beside Wi' my coo and my grumpy I'm as happy as a bee,
But I'm far prouder o'oo Since she noddit to me!

I'm nae me past w'e—I'm gie' trig and ball, Can plait twa three lawties, An' look after my hail;
And when our Queen passes I'm not to see,
Gie' my lack she micht notice And nod oot to me!

But I've aye been unelchy, And the blinde were aye does,
Till last week the time
O' her visit cam' roon', I waded my bit apron
As bink's I could dae, An' the Queen lauch'd fu' kindly An' noddit to me.

My son sleeps in Egypt—It's nae case to fret—
An' yet when I think o't I'm sair like to greet.
She may feel for my sorrow—She's a mither, ye see—An' maybe she kent o't
When she noddit to me!

WHAT IS INCONSISTENCY?

What is consistency, or when can a man be said to be inconsistent? There is not a leading living statesman to day who has not changed his opinions, and there are many men supporting to-day what they formerly opposed. True there are public men living who have scarcely ever altered two opposite opinions on a public question, no matter how erroneous their first opinions were. But we are not talking of those men. Their day has gone. We are talking of progressive intelligence, and we say change of opinion does not mean inconsistency, since it may be the result of increased knowledge. Because our forefathers burned tallow candles, is no reason why we should; or because they believed the earth to be flat that we should cling to the same belief when our own observations prove it to be round. There was a time, and not very long ago, when the Jews and others were denied the rights of citizenship in England through fear and prejudice, but that time has passed, and the Jewish race gave to England one of the greatest statesmen of modern times. We live to learn. The past cannot be changed, but we can or should profit by it—imitate that which is worthy of imitation, and guard against the evil. This is why men write history—at least this is the use wise men make of it. Yes, men change, old prejudices perish, false theories are exploded, and men are commanding to see that the more respect they have for the liberties of their neighbours the closer the human family is drawn together and the more permanent its peace. Some there are, of course, who cling to old theories—who, so to speak, light themselves to bed with a tallow candle. But others seek new light. Twenty years ago Sir John Macdonald held views different from what he does now, and Mr. Gladstone has turned a complete right-about during his public career on many important questions, and who so bold as to say that Canada and Great Britain have not been the gainers. The man who aims at the accomplishment of good for his fellow men must not be deterred by fear of leaving himself open to the charge of inconsistency from doing what his reason teaches him his right. When Paul turned Christian—from the persecutor to the persecuted—he was, no doubt, charged with inconsistency, but he cared little so long as his conscience told him he was doing right. But when is a man inconsistent? We will tell you: When he preaches one thing and practices the opposite at the same time, or when he refuses to follow where his conscience leads, like many of the public men of Canada and other countries, for fear of leaving himself open to the charge of inconsistency. And such a man wars with his own conscience, swallows his own convictions, and lives his own prisoner. A very inconsistent man, indeed.

As may be seen by advertisement and notice, the Mounted Police are calling for tenders for the supplying of some 7,535 bushels of oats.

Mail came in on Monday last according to new arrangement, but without the Winnipeg mail. It goes out on Wednesday morning, not Tuesday, as we state last week.

CUMBERLAND.

SILVER WEDDING.

The 23d of August last being the 23th anniversary of the marriage of Chief Factor and Mrs. Belanger, the officers and clerks of the District of Cumberland took advantage of the occasion to present them with an address congratulating them on the happy occasion, and expressive of the esteem in which they held them. The address was accompanied by a piece of plate.

ADDRESS.

Dear Sir and Madam:

The occurrence of your Silver Wedding gives us, the officers and clerks in the District, a rare opportunity of testifying our respect and esteem which we readily avail ourselves of, and it is with unfeigned pleasure that we now address you and congratulate you on this epoch in your married life.

Permit us to assure you that our earnest wishes are for your continued prosperity, and that even greater blessings may be in store for you than you have yet enjoyed.

Pray do not judge our esteem by the shortness of this address, nor by the intrinsic value of the accompanying plate, as both these standards would be much too limited.

We have every confidence that you will accept our small offering in the manner in which it is given, and receive it as a token, though a very inadequate one, of our heartfelt wishes for your welfare and happiness.

And we remain, Dear Sir and Madam, Yours very sincerely

Pierre Duchambault, John McAlay, George McCrum, Joseph Houston, John McDonald, Geo. Duchambault, Angus McLean.

REPLY.

Hudson's Bay Office, Cumberland House, August 3rd, 1886.

Gentlemen:

In reply to your address and acknowledging the acceptance of your very valuable, handsome and substantial present on this, the 23th anniversary of our wedding day, I am not only surprised and pleased beyond expression, but my heart is so full of emotion at this kind and unusual mark of esteem and grateful attention that I feel unable to give expression to my feelings on behalf of myself and Mrs. Belanger in words adequate to the occasion. Although our duties always require strictness in administration with the company which we serve, my individual shortcomings may be felt to grieve at times, believe me, gentlemen, it is from the experience of the one only, not from the heart. Unfortunately, Mrs. Belanger being away, and some who have contributed have gone to their respective posts, it is much to be regretted that we cannot celebrate the day together, but some future occasion, please God, will proffer us the opportunity. This occasion has shown the unanimity of purpose and bonds of love which emanated in your warm hearts to mark this day in my life, and that of my beloved wife, as one to which we can revert with proud satisfaction in after years, by the adornment of our home constantly in the view of your most fitting souvenir that commemorates our Silver Wedding, for which we thank you with full hearts and open hands. I have, in conclusion, again to thank you for your good wishes for our happiness and welfare, and believe me, gentlemen, that so long as life and ourselves remain in this district it shall be my aim to tide over and overcome all that we may meet to our mutual benefit, and I shall not fail to remember that in this "Great Lone Land" you have not forgotten the glorious amenities of life which mark the advance of civilization and which characterizes the representatives of the Hudson's Bay Co. in all parts of the globe. Again thanking you, gentlemen, I have the honor to be, Yours sincerely,

MORAY BELANGER, ROSALEE BELANGER.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you distressed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? Has he or she got a cold and a hot, swollen throat? Give them a few drops of WINDSOR'S SOOTHING SYRUP for children teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, there is no other remedy so effectual. It cures Brucella and Diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures Wind and Colic, softens the stools, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. WINDSOR'S SOOTHING SYRUP for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Beware and ask for "Miss WINDSOR'S SOOTHING SYRUP," and take no other kind.
